This is the 1st sample of testimonial. The Project is about final year for college. testimonials are different from reviews because review are generally unguided and are written directly by the customer. Testimonials can help build trust and credibility with your customers. Companies usually display them on the front page of their website

CONCLUSION

1. More and more colleges and universities focus on how to effectively develop and use alumni resources. Combining the problems of alumni management in "Internet+" era, this paper presents an integrated intelligent alumni information management system that implements three breakthroughs.

2. In short, colleges and universities should fully mine and use alumni resources to maximize its function through the integrated intelligence alumni information management system.
